FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Since its inception by our founder Mike Pascarella, Desert Vets Racing has put in place a mission of providing a platform focused on our US military veterans and active-duty personnel. This consists of team building and comradery, adrenaline therapy, and mental health support through the sport of off-road racing. Our goal is to help facilitate healthy transitions into civilian life and lower the risk of suicide and substance abuse dependencies. We believe that the growth of locally oriented activities that involve a combination of technical skills, adrenaline, team effort, and other related skills will ultimately provide a missing piece to the “veteran puzzle”. We firmly believe this will help minimize the mental health and substance-related struggles we see today. We cannot accomplish this goal without the amazing support of our sponsor partners and so many people.

In an effort to stay focused on this mission, we are excited to announce that Desert Vets Racing will now become DVR Motorsports. NEW NAME. SAME MISSION. Our goal is to build on the positive momentum Mike started and expand it to create a more structured environment. We have a new leadership team in place to provide oversight with all related operations. We will work closely with our current sponsor partners and develop new relationships to ensure the future long-term success of DVR Motorsports. This change will also allow for new growth opportunities both inside and outside the off-road racing community. While this will be a strategically planned rollout, please be patient as we move through this process. We are excited at what 2023 and beyond will bring.

We thank you all for your continued support during this transition and look forward to a bright future of continuing to help our veterans and active duty through motorsports. Please look out for future updates through Facebook, Instagram, and our website at dvrmotorsports.org.
